

ANALYST, OPERATIONAL TECHNOLOGY (CYBER SECURITY)

Nuneaton

Full Time, FTC 18 months, Hybrid Working

YOU'LL MAKE CONTRIBUTIONS THAT MATTER BY...

- Working as part of the Operational Technology (OT) function based at Nuneaton, to deliver the OT Cyber Security agenda across SDUK Manufacturing and Logistics sites.
- Improving the cyber security posture of SDUK OT applications and infrastructure, applying best practice controls, including patching, end point protection, appropriate baselines and privileged access management processes to ensure continued performance, availability and function.
- Delivering cyber security improvements aligned to Saputo ICS Assessment framework, IEC-62443 audits and SDUK OT cyber security management system.
- Managing technical change, with appropriate assessment of risk, recovery processes and communications to ensure successful delivery.
- Providing documentation and effective communication related to cyber security initiatives, to enable effective implementation of systems change and support processes.

YOU'RE BEST SUITED FOR THE ROLE IF YOU ARE...

- Previously experienced in a comparable technical role, preferably within an operational environment and level 5 qualified in cyber security, or equivalent professional qualification (i.e. CISSP).
- Technically knowledgeable in cyber security best practices to a high level (i.e. privileged access management, vulnerability management, patch management, intrusion detection systems and endpoint protection), preferably within an operational environment.
- Able to demonstrate an excellent understanding of cyber security best practice and controls, and their application within an organisation to improve security posture.
- Aware of common Industrial Control Systems (ICS) equipment, and its connectivity, communication and the cyber security threat within industrial environments is preferred, but not essential.
- An excellent communicator who can listen to, understand and document requirements and processes, and provide updates to key stakeholders.
